Lecture on "Me and My Literature" by Dr. Bhimrao Waghchoure

23rd November, 2016

REPORT

Staff Academy organised a lecture of Dr. Bhimrao Waghchoure on the Me and My Literature on Monday, 23rd November 2016, in audio video classroom room. In the beginning Dr. C.V Sirsat formally welcomed and introduced Dr. Bhimrao Waghchoure. Dr. Bhimrao Waghchoure was a former faculty in the Marathi Department of the college. He is veteran writer has written novels which retain the flavour of rustic life. In his narratives Dr. Bhimrao Waghchoure pointed out that the life which the readers see in his novels, is the reflections of life which he experienced. The realism the incidents which depicted in his novels are recreation of his childhood days, his reactions as a young man to the hostile world and his life in his village. In other words, in his novels are the result of realistic representation of the experiences of the writer himself. But this subjectivity doesn't remain personal but it crosses all the boundaries of caste, creed and religion. The subjectivity of the writer becomes the objectivity and personal experience become impersonal. His Rankhalgi was as a part of curriculum in Kolhapur University which describes the deserted village when it receives very insufficient rain. The book is a reaction of marginalised who is deprived of what is rightfully belonged to him.

In his lecture Dr. Bhimrao Waghchoure throws light on his various novels. He also shared the fact that his books in literature are his reactions to the world at different stages of his life.

Dr. Sirsat, the In Charge Principal of the college, in his presidential address said that he knew him personally.. He had seen him struggling with the adversaries of life and he has proved that man cannot be defeated. His books are the result of his reactions to the world. In a vote of thanks Dr. B.R. Dhapase thanked Dr. Waghchoure for his well versed speech; he also thanked the Principal and all faculty members for their presence for the programme.
