Lecture on "Inter-Caste Marriage and Social Change"

by Dr. Sahebrao Hiwale

22-03-2019

REPORT

Staff Academy conducted a lecture of Dr. Sahebrao Hiwale on 'Inter-Caste Marriage and Social Change' on 22nd March, 2019 to throw light on the role of inter-caste marriages weaving a thread of social bonding amongst the people. The resource person Dr. Sahebrao Hiwale, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, stressed the importance of social harmony in the society in this trying period. He further said that our nation today, is going through a transition, the fanaticism is at its peak and the caste system which was being outdated is prevailing and has pervasive effect on the society. The worst thing is that the educated people are not exception for this. The more they are educated, the more they are groping in the darkness of caste system. It is very important to have a healthy atmosphere in the society and the atmosphere is created only when people cross the boundaries of the caste creed and religion to prevail the humanity because it is the only foundation on which a well cultured future society could be built. The resource person Dr Hiwale, in his narrative, pointed out the effects of marriages between two people belonging to two different culture, different nations and different boundaries. When this happens, then only, multiculturalism will play a vital role in understanding two different cultures from give and take relationships. This enhances the reverence for the culture of other people and amalgamation of good cultures resulting into emotional ties between the two individuals and ultimately between two culturally different nations. He also pointed out that this bonding accelerates business exchanging technology and ideas that boost the standard of the living of the people of both societies religions and countries. In his summing up he also pointed out that caste creed and divisions in the society are all man-made problems which hinder the development of the society. The session came to end with the vote of thanks by Prof. Hamne. Dr. Ashok Zine, Dr. Baliram Lone, Dr. Dhapase and faculties from different streams were present for the lecture.
