FINANCIAL EDUCATION WORKSHOP FOR FACULTY (26-11-2016)

Organized by

Department of Economics

In Collaboration with SEBI

REPORT

On 26-11-2016, the Department of Economics in collaboration with SEBI organized a Financial Education Workshop. The resource person was Dr. Anil Jadhav. The programme was presided over by Dr. K. P. Bholane, Head, Department of Commerce.

Dr. S. N. Babar, Associate Professor, Department of Economics shared the objective and need for such financial awareness workshops. He welcomed the resource persons and the dignitaries present on the occasion.

Dr. Anil Jadhav distributed financial educational booklet and said that SEBI has been established with the objectives of monitoring the stock activities, safeguard the investor rights, to curb fraudulent practices and to define the code of conduct. Late, he pointed out that there are a large number of investment options available in the market. So people feel that the firms which give highest returns in shorter periods are good for them. However, when such players give high returns, the investors must check their credibility thoroughly.

He said that SEBI has come up with the sign of such fraudulent investment schemes. It has designed a 72 Point Document in order to establish the credibility of such schemes. If you apply these tests to any new scheme that comes to you can easily determine whether it is a fair investment plan or fraudulent one. He stressed the need for awareness. He added that every year SEBI receives thousands of fraud cases from individuals and firms. So prevention is better than cure. Today when people run after fast returns, it has become obligatory to step in carefully. Especially, the young people have to be conscious.

In his presidential remarks, Dr. K. P. Bholane said that there is no option to risk taking. Higher the risk, more the returns is the formula. However, we can read the white paper of the firm before investment and avoid the further hassles. Dr. Yogita Rahane proposed the vote of thanks.
