Street Play on Open Defecation
02-02-2017

The NSS volunteers staged street play on the theme 'Consequences of Open Defecation' at Hingoni village on 02-02-2017. The volunteers noticed that some of the villagers still adopt open air defecation and that practice is hazardous to health. They also found that the situation becomes critical in rainy season. So it spreads water-borne diseases in the rural community.

The students sang songs giving the message of personal hygiene. They communicated the importance of having latrine at home. They gathered in the main crossroad where the people gathered in good number. The dramatization was very humorous and thought provoking. At the end of the play, they interacted with the people who assured that they have understood the importance of constructing toilet rooms at home.
