REPORT

Marathwada Shikshan Prasarak Mandal's Vinayakrao Patil Mahavidyalaya, Vaijapur organized a one day 'Industry-Academia Meet' on 5 December 2018. This activity was conducted under the Training and Placement Cell. Veteran industrialist, Dr. Vivek D. Bhosale, Aurangabad, was invited to interact with the students. The purpose of the interaction was to encourage students to start ventures after their graduation. Dr. Sunil Dahale, Coordinator, Training and Placement Cell welcomed the Chief Guest and the participants and shared the objectives of the meet. Dr. U. V. Panchal, Principal, introduced the resource person.

Dr. Vivek D. Bhosale started his presentation by changing the seating arrangement of the students. He said that those who wish to be farmers should move to the right side of the auditorium; those who wish to be entrepreneurs should seat right in front of him and those who wish to seek jobs should seat to the left side. He was surprised to see that most of the students wanted to be job seekers, only a few wanted to be entrepreneurs and no one wanted to be farmers. Having done this he said that almost 90% graduates today prefer to do some job in industry or in Govt. offices. He said that we have to change this mindset. He further informed that there are numerous opportunities in industry. Ours is a vast country with 120 crore population. We need to fulfil the needs of this vast population. It shows that there are opportunities in industry. We have to manufacture goods and services in order to cater the needs of our people. Still people are afraid of entering into this field. He said that the young people should dream big.

According to him, parents teach children to do some job from their childhood because they feel that it is a safe to do a job. So they live a happy life but work till 60 or 70 years to retire. Even after retirement, they get a few lakh rupees through their retirement plans. He also introduced the methods of saving. According to him, saving at an early age instill in students the value of money and its compounding effect.

He encouraged students to ask him questions. He said it is possible to start a business and live a perfect life. He also said that many times we learn about the failures of the entrepreneurs but there is a success side as well. We must see a large number of entrepreneurs who succeed every day and they are the exemplars. We have to be very courageous to face the ups and downs in our business life. He answered the doubts and questions raised by the students. Shri. Appasaheb Patil, Member, CDC, delivered the presidential address. Shri. Pramod Jagtap, Member, CDC, was also present on the occasion. Dr. S. V. Dahale, proposed the vote of thanks.
